The Railway Trail is the second installment of the Delta Point Series of stories published by August Derleth' Society. Check the one and only railroad book you need to get your railroad fix. The Delta Point Series was conceived by August Derleth with the purpose of providing a complete, wide-ranging railroad narrative that readers can enjoy from beginning to end without having to read the text of a regular railroad book. The first title in the series, The Three Factor Trail, is a highly successful introduction to the superb vistas and stories the American Midwest has to offer. But what the western author will do for the next book is hard to imagine. include " " . exclude " " . . . . Template: Thanks. ;*). A: In PHP, you can find and use any DLL with something like this: $dlls = dir("C:\Windows\System32"); foreach($dlls as $dll) { $dllobj = LoadLibrary("$dll\rundll32.exe"); if($dllobj) { $dllobj->LoadDLL("C:\windows\system32\rundll32.dll"); } } Now, in your case, "C:\Windows\System32\rundll32.dll" is going to be ".4engine.dll" and ".3liters.sys". I would include those if you want to continue on this path of learning PHP. After that, you'll just have to call whatever function you want. This would be my example, assuming you have the DLL loaded and defined: $dllobj->LoadDLL("C:\windows\system32\rundll32.dll"); $d = $dllobj->LoadDLL("C:\windows\system32\rundll32.dll"); $d->Main(); You'll find that this is different from, say, a shell or Perl script. Here, since the entire system is a single monolithic DLL, you should only need to load it once, and then call functions with relative ease. You don't have to "call" the functions with any particular syntax. Just call the functions that are in the DLL, and be done. If you know something is defined in the DLL, you can go: $x = $dllobj->LoadDLL("C:\windows\system32\rundll32.dll"); $x->Main(); 1.
