And while the usual way to draw attention to a character is to show them off, I'm more concerned about giving people a reason to want to read something I wrote. My method is to do my research on the new character before I write them. I find it so much

What's new:

I began working on this update a few months ago, but I didn't get anywhere. I spent many hours that I didn't have time for everything and I kinda just gave up on it. After that I realized I could use the Ambiences I made. This is why I made this update. UPDATE! Since my creation of a version of the ambience this update is mainly going to have sound clips and not the original ambience but instead the ambience I made. This reason being the old version is much longer than this and I'm not working on that anymore. I have made the last version though. Your version will be KISFY - One Insane Version. In this update I will be bringing KISFY to life via the Game. Which is why this is not the final version. I will now be the one who will be cheating by making the ambience that is in this update. I'm no artist so it takes a while for me to make this but I did it. After a while of making ambience I also created the game ambience that is in this update, in the beginning of last year. I just never got around to it. Some points you may ask yourself on this update. Of course it's not complete. What do I mean by that, it's a point in development. How was KISFY created? How long did it take? How many hours did I spend on it? No idea. I made it over the month of December. Next I will update it two more times before completely working on a new game. Why did it take two years of working on this game? Or how long did it take? The answer to this is because KISFY was my first intro to making video games. I wasn't very good at it, at the beginning at least. I still was learning a lot and I had to learn way more. More than I'd like to admit. What is in this update? There are two updates for this game. The gameplay ambience and the game itself ambience. Gameplay ambience will add lots of new features like jumping, running, skipping. Which you can find online. There will be a variety of blocks that include grids. Which you can explore. And lastly there are some characters in the game. These are the characters from the game and what they say. This will be a point in development for
