This is the SharePoint 2013 Online Demo(Integrated Search). Its everything you need to complete the on-premise demos. A: (Only for on-premise installations) Make sure you have the latest version of the SharePoint Sql Server database installed. This article explains how to do that. Start the SharePoint Management Shell as a user with access to the required databases. If you are running a Linux server, add the user to the SQL Server RDS group. If you are running a Windows server, do the same thing with the SQL Server sysadmin role. This article explains how to do that. Import the list template into your desired list This article shows you how to import the template. A: We have experienced many problems while trying to import CSV file into SharePoint 2010. As far as we are aware, we didn't find a completely "simple" way to do it. Also, sometimes we had to repair corrupt databases. We were able to import this "excel" file successfully using the following approach: Import the CSV file into a temp database (a new database on the SQL Server instance) Then import the temp table into the "destination" list Copy the records you need from the temp table to the original list Delete the temp table /* * Copyright (c) 2000, 2001, Oracle and/or its affiliates.
